Hands Touching Hearts is a global outreach effort that gives Americans of all ages the opportunity to decorate handcrafted thank-you gifts for United States military personnel.

The sixth keepsake created for the Hands Touching Hearts gift collection is a coin case.

Made of felt, the case measures 4 1/4" wide by 3" tall and includes a special metal coin.

Like all program keepsakes, the coin case is designed to be transformed by the work of the decorator's hands. For this gift, program participants decorate the inside of the case.

When finished,
the decorator has two options:

1. Take the keepsake and give it to an active-duty service member, reservist or veteran that the decorator knows personally.
2. Give the keepsake to Ann M. Cosgrove, the originator of Hands Touching Hearts, and have her send it to a Vietnam veteran that the decorator does not know.
